short bio

Michel Puech's academic background is in classical European philosophy. He gradually specialized his research field towards a critical analysis of modernity. He has published numerous books and articles on the philosophy of technology, the concept of the "sustainable", and more broadly on new value systems. His current work focuses on the notion of wisdom.

His recent books are Homo Sapiens Technologicus (Le Pommier, 2008, new edn 2016), Développement durable : un avenir à faire soi-même [Sustainability: a Do-It-Yourself Future, (Le Pommier, 2010), The Ethics of Ordinary Technology, New York: Routledge, 2016.
